Summer Arrives in Smart Circles

By MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE.

IF the social roll were called in the early days of the current week, the illuminating phrase, "gone to Chicago," would cover many conspicuous absences in smart circles. The Windy City is the mecca of fashionable, as well as political, travelers while the Republican national convention holds forth, there being all manner of festive events to interest those who are not actively performing in the political arena.

Suites in Chicago's luxurious hostels were engaged long ago and some of the visitors have even taken houses for their better comfort during their sojourn, and to facilitate the entertaining which accompanies the assemblage of such distinguished folk from all parts of the country. Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth are among the lessees of temporary abodes and will have as their guests during the convention Mrs. Wadsworth's sister, Mrs. Payne Whitney, of New York, and Mr. Wadsworth's parents, former Representative and Mrs. Wadsworth.

Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, who spent the early part of the week at the Capital, departed Chicagoward to join Mr. Bryan on Wednesday. During her brief visit, Mrs. Bryan was much feted in the quiet way which she infinitely prefers. Mrs. Burleson gave a charming little luncheon party for her at Pierce Mill, confining her guests mainly to the ladies of the Cabinet. Mrs. Bryan dined informally with Mrs. Carl Vrooman one evening during her stay.

Pierce Mill for breakfast or luncheon and Dower House for dinner and the dance is apparently the decree of society with respect to early summer hospitality. The informality of motoring one's guests to luncheon or dinner in an al fresco setting, not to mention the convenience to hostesses whose households are in the throes of preparation for summer, is well adapted to the season, which is hovering on the edge of complete extinction. When the warm June days have been accepted and established, the problem of keeping comfortably cool is of paramount importance and purely social festivities become merely incidental.

Usually the season is considered ended when winter rugs and draperies are relegated to the camphor chest, but there is evidence of a prolongation of a mild form of gayety this summer, if Congress delays adjournment. A great many of the official matrons will remain in town until their husbands are released from duty; others are closing their houses and fitting up comfortable summer quarters in apartments or hotels for the men of the family, before returning to their homes throughout the States.

The Vice President and Mrs. Marshall expect to remain at the Capital through July and August, and in view of the sultriness of those two trying months, have leased the Pickford residence in Connecticut avenue. The house was built by former Senator Bailey and is particularly well adapted for a summer abode with large, cool rooms and an abundance of shade. It is situated just beyond the Connecticut Avenue Bridge and commands a delightful view from the most attractive residential section of the Capital. The Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker are established at their new residence near Chevy Chase, which is the country home of Mr. and Mrs. David Fairchild, and is an ideal summer residence.

The late season has witnessed an unusual number of interesting announcements, anent the engagements of several of the most prominent girls in Capital society. Last week the engagement of Miss Helena K. Elliott to Mr. Frederic Huidekoper was the topic of interest around the tea tables, and Thursday came the announcement that Miss Francis Williams, daughter of Col. and Mrs. John R. Williams, will be married to Mr. John Ballantine Pitney, of Morristown, N. J., in the autumn. Miss Williams is a noted beauty and has been one of the most popular girls in society since her debut last season. She has traveled extensively with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, and spent several months in the late winter cruising with them in Florida waters on Mr. Leiter's yacht, Summer Girl. Mr. Pitney is a nephew of Mr. Justice Pitney, of Washington.

Official Folk.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing have as their guest for some days Mrs. Lansing's nephew, Mr. Allen Dulles.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels went to Annapolis Thursday to attend the ball there that evening. Mr. Daniels returned on Friday, but Mrs. Daniels remained a day longer as the guest of the superintendent of the Naval Academy and Mrs. Eberle.

The Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Houston will leave Washington on Tuesday to attend the convention at Chicago. Mrs. Houston will return to Washington on June 16 to attend the graduation of her son, Franklin, at the high school.

Mrs. William B. Wilson, wife of the Secretary of Labor, will leave Washington the latter part of the month for the summer. Before going to her country home, at Blossburg, Pa., Mrs. Wilson will visit the Secretary's mother, Mrs. Allen Wilson, whose home is in Clearfield County, Pa. Miss Mary Wilson will join her mother about the first of the month.

Mrs. Frank L. Polk and her children will go to their summer place, at Southampton, L. I., at the end of June.

Mrs. John Temple Graves has left Washington to join Miss Laura Graves and her two younger daughters, Miss Katherine and Miss Anne Graves, at the bungalow on the Hudson that Col. and Mrs. Graves have leased for the summer. Col. Graves, who is now at Chicago, will join his family later. Mr. John Temple Graves, Jr., will remain at Washington a month longer, going later to take a course at Columbia University. Mrs. Graves, joining his parents for week-end trips.

Summer Embassies.

The Russian Ambassador and Mme. Bakmeteff left Washington yesterday for Newport, where their embassy will be established for the summer. They will pass several days in New York en route. They were accompanied by Mr. Joseph Loris-Melikoff and Baron Renaud d'Ugny, first and second secretaries of the embassy.

Lady Spring-Rice, wife of the British Ambassador, left Washington yesterday with her children to pass the summer at Woods Hole, Mass., where they have taken a cottage for the season. The embassy here will remain open and most of the staff will remain in town during the summer.

The Spanish Ambassador and Mme. Riano, who have taken a cottage at Newport for the summer, will not leave town until late in June.

The Argentine Ambassador and Mme. Naon have taken possession of Windcliffe, Mrs. William J. Boardman's place at Manchester, Mass., which they have leased for the summer season.

Maj. Alfredo Ewing, military attaché of the Chilean Embassy, and Mme. Ewing, accompanied by their children, will leave Washington the latter part of June for Long Beach, Long Island, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

The Siamese Minister and Lady Prabha Karavongse, accompanied by the members of the legation staff, will leave Washington this month to spend the summer at Baas Rocks, Mass., where they have leased two cottages.

Wright-Fletcher

St. Stephen's Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Leslie Boudinot Fletcher became the bride of Dr. Clarence Deletie Wright. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George F. Dudley, and the church was elaborately decorated with garlands of smilax and quantities of pink roses with rose arches arrayed over the center aisle.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Henry Ellsworth Boudinot, wore an exquisite gown of ivory Georgette crepe and tulle over ivory charmeuse with trimmings of rare Italian lace, which had formed a part of her mother's wedding gown. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and cape jessamine.

Miss Dorothy Buckingham was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Lillian Miller and Miss Louise Williams. The maid of honor's gown was of blue and white Georgette crepe. She wore a leghorn hat trimmed with pink, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids wore gowns of similar design, one wearing blue and the other pink net, trimmed with lace and chiffon. They wore large leghorn hats and carried pink sweet peas.

Dr. Bacon acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. E. C. Merrill, Mr. Mason Wilhelm, Mr. Donald Libbey and the Rev. E. H. Stevens.

A small reception for the bridal party followed at the residence of Mrs. William Buckingham in Sixteenth street, after which Dr. Wright and his bride left for a wedding trip. They will be at home after July 1, at 1333 Park road.

The bride is the daughter of the late Jesse H. Fletcher, who held an important diplomatic post during former President Cleveland's administration. Her father is a scientist in the Bureau of Chemistry, in the Department of Agriculture.

The guests from out of town at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Boudinot, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wright, parents of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Libbey.

June Weddings.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Deeble and Mr. Ivor William Phillips will be solemnized Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock at St. Thomas Church. The Rev. Dr. C. Ernest Smith will officiate. There will be no attendants and only the immediate families and a few close friends will be present.

The wedding of Miss Emily Wickham Munroe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Munroe, of Annapolis, to Lieut. Laurence North McNair, U. S. N., took place Thursday evening in St. Anne's Church at Annapolis.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph P. McComas, the rector, assisted by the Rev. F. C. Shears, of Millersville. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Donald P. Morrison. The bridesmaids were Miss Julia McNair, the sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Adele Munroe, the sister of the bride. The best man was Lieut. J. W. Wilcox, U. S. N., and the ushers were Mr. E. O. McNair, Jr., and Mr. J. S. Barnes, of Philadelphia, and Lieuts. W. S. McClinton, W. E. Eberle, G. W. Haines, J. J. London, T. F. Dorch, Frank J. Fletcher and C. Van Hook, of the navy.

The wedding of Mr. Frederick Snare, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Snare, of New York, and Miss Edith Rutledge Dulles, a daughter of Mrs. William Dulles, also of New York, took place Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Hotel Gotham, New York, where the bride's family have made their home for several years. The ceremony took place in the ballroom, which was banked with bay trees and festooned with roses.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. James in Varnum street was the scene of a pretty wedding Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the latter's daughter, Miss Ruby Marie Byers, was married to Mr. Charles R. Belden.

How You May Change Your Face Completely

Any woman not satisfied with her complexion can easily remove it and have a new one. The thin veil of stifling, half-dead cuticle is an embarrassment and should be removed to give the fresh, vigorous, young skin underneath a chance to show itself and to breathe. There's a simple, old-fashioned remedy which will always do the work. Get an ounce of pure mel-colicized wax from your druggist and apply it at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. The wax will gently absorb all the lifeless skin and leave a healthy and beautiful complexion, as fresh as a child's. Naturally it takes with it all such facial blemishes as freckles, moth patches, sallowness, liver spots, pimples. It is pleasant to use and economical. The face so treated soon looks years younger.

To keep the skin free from wrinkles there's nothing quite so good as the old reliable saxonite lotion. It is only necessary to dissolve an ounce of powdered saxonite in half pint of witch hazel and bathe the face in this as recommended. —Adm.

married to Mr. James D. Clare, of Boston, Mass.

The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. H. T. Stevenson, was followed by a small reception. The color scheme of the wedding was attractively carried out in pink and white, the mantels being banked with white peonies and La France roses, while the same blossoms for decoration were used in the dining room.

The bride wore a lovely pearl-colored taffeta gown, a Jenny model, combined with Georgette crepe. The skirt was short and the bodice was basque effect with flowing crepe sleeves. Her small poke bonnet of pearl color having a crown of shell pink was of French straw, and she carried white roses and pink orchids. Worn with this costume was a miniature of her great-great-aunt, Miss Anna Byers.

Miss Charlotte R. Belden as maid of honor wore a dainty gown of shell-pink net and a large leghorn hat trimmed with pink tulle. An arm bouquet of pink gladiolas and white peonies edged with pink was carried.

Mrs. Thomas C. Craft, of Baltimore, as matron of honor, was in a becoming gown of pale blue soiree with pipings of pink, wearing a large leghorn hat trimmed with pink roses. She carried white peonies edged with pink and Aaron Ward roses. Little Chester Ellis in a white Norfolk suit immediately preceded the bride, carrying a basket of pink and white flowers.

Mr. Robert Linn Clare, of Perth Amboy, N. J., was the best man for his brother, Mrs. James, mother of the bride, received in a handsome gown of blue brocade Georgette crepe. Later Mr. and Mrs. Clare left for a wedding trip. Mrs. Clare wearing a smart tailored gown of gray velvet with hat to match. They will make their home at Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred P. Berlan announce the marriage of their daughter, Anna May, to Mr. Raymond Warren Bellamy, of Carbondale, Pa., which took place Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. R. W. Coe. Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy left Washington immediately after the ceremony for a western trip. They will make their home at Carbondale, Pa.

An interesting marriage took place Thursday at noon at the Maury, when Miss Fanny Whittlesey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Whittlesey, became the bride of Mr. Frank Shepherd, of Yorkshire, England.

The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Nelms, of the Church of the Ascension, was followed by a breakfast for relatives and out-of-town guests. The apartment

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can make a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and rub briskly. This creates an abundance of thick, white lather that thoroughly dissolves and removes the dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly, with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Adv.
